What is the Section 6025 Strategic Economic & Community Development?

As required by the 2014 Farm Bill, Rural Development is implementing Section 6025, Strategic Economic Community Development

SECD prioritizes projects that support the implementation of a multi-jurisdictional plan.
Why SECD?

Recognizing that poverty reduction is a systemic problem that requires systemic solutions, the Strategic Economic and Community Development (SECD) is an opportunity to prioritize projects that support the implementation of a regional economic development plan.
Eligible Programs

• Direct Community Facility Loans & Grants
• Direct Water and Waste Loans and Grants
• Rural Business Development Grants
• Guaranteed Community Facility Loans
• Guaranteed Water and Waste Disposal Loans
• Business and Industry Guaranteed Loans
Funding SECD

- Eligible SECD programs will be able to set aside up to 10% of program funds for projects that support SECD.

- SECD applications can be accepted for projects “in progress” or new projects, for FY 2016 funding based on their funding cycles.

- The SECD applications for RBDG and Direct CF Loans/Grants will be reviewed and awarded at the state level.
  - All other programs will be reviewed and awarded at the national level.

- Unobligated funds will go back to applicable program after June 30th of Fiscal Year

Eligible Multi-Jurisdictional Plans
Definition: Multi-Jurisdictional Plan

Plan means a comprehensive economic development or community development strategy that outlines a region’s vision for shaping its economy, and includes, as appropriate and necessary, consideration of such aspects as natural resources, land use, transportation, and housing. Such Plans bring together key community stakeholders to create a roadmap to diversify and strengthen their communities and to build a foundation to create the environment for regional economic prosperity. To be acceptable under this subpart, the Plan must be vetted and supported by the Jurisdictions affected by the Plan and must contain at a minimum the following:

(1) A summary of the economic conditions of the region;

(2) An in-depth analysis of the economic and community strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats for the region, to include consideration of such aspects as the environmental and social conditions;

(3) Strategies and implementation (of) Plan to build upon the region’s strengths and opportunities and to resolve the weaknesses and threats facing the region;

(4) Performance measures that evaluate the successful implementation of the Plan’s objectives; and

(5) Support of key community stakeholders. Acceptable forms of supporting documentation showing this support include, but are not limited to, memos of understanding with authorizing signatures, letters of support, and cooperative agreements between the applicant and key entities.
What is an adopted plan?

Adopted. The statute requires “applications involving State, county, municipal, or tribal governments shall include an indication of consistency with an adopted regional economic or community development plan.”

The primary consideration in defining “adopted” is that the appropriate entity has, or entities have, officially approved the plan for implementation. The appropriate entity or entities will vary among plans and may be, for example, a governing body or planning board.
Who Has Regional Plans?

• Councils of Governments-Public and Non-Profit
• Regional Authorities
• State Agencies
• Coalitions of Counties, Towns, etc.
• Special Initiative Coalitions like Stronger Economics Together (SET), Promise Zones, Investing in Manufacturing Communities Partnership (IMCP), Sustainable Communities and Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS)

A plan can also be a product of a non-profit organization serving multiple jurisdictions.

So you have a multi-jurisdictional plan, now what?

1) Find Eligible Projects
2) Connect Projects to USDA Rural Development
3) Assess Project and Multi-Jurisdictional Plan Compatibility
   • If compatible, submit SECD application for approval
   • If NOT compatible, consider updating multi-jurisdictional plan
