FALL IN ANCHORAGE

Autumn colors provide the perfect backdrop for a meeting in Anchorage. The city and surrounding mountains are brilliant shades of yellow and orange. Those fall colors make spotting moose, Dall sheep and other wildlife even easier.

With 13 hours of daylight and average temperatures in the 50s you'll have plenty of time to enjoy Anchorage after the day's meetings are through.

When the session ends for the day, trails still beckon, and Anchorage nightlife heats up.

Dressing in a light jacket or fleece is advisable for adjusting to fall weather.
