New Strategies for Achieving Innovation
EDA Regional Innovation Strategies projects will be highlighted in this session; attendees will learn how the projects were financed (including how federal investments were leveraged), their impact to the community and region, key partnerships, and also how these projects are (or will be) impacting the regions they serve.

> Dr. Dave N. Norris, Chief Research and Innovation Officer, Office of Research and Innovation, Louisiana Tech University, Ruston, LA
> Dr. Byron C. Clayton, President & CEO, Research Park Corporation, Baton Rouge, LA
> Moderator: Melissa Rivers, East Arkansas PDD, Jonesboro, AR

When Organizations’ Cultures Change
Governor Room
Today’s organizations and employees have changed immensely over the past 10 to 20 years. Present HR issues are, in many cases, far different than those faced by HR departments even a decade ago. Multi-generational employees present both challenges and opportunities to leadership. This session will address various factors that impact the productivity and performance of an organization during times of transition. Discussions will include navigating a crisis and minimizing impact on employees, and maximizing performance of employees with wide ranging differences in terms of what motivates them, their work ethics, work patterns, and much more.
5:00 - 6:30 p.m.
Star of the Southwest Awards Roundtable Reception
Riverview B
Join your peers for light snacks and beverages and an amazing opportunity to learn more about the Star of the Southwest that were recognized earlier in the day. The “Stars” will be available to talk one-on-one with attendees about particular elements of their projects.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS
Bridging the Gap: Economic Development and Workforce
Riverview A
Matching potential employees with jobs that will utilize their skills can be a daunting task. On the flip side, recruiting businesses that have jobs for the existing workforce can be as formidable. This session will focus on the benefits of apprenticeship programs and concepts as a means to fill the gaps that often exist between available workforce skills and jobs.

> Karen Breashears, President, National Apprenticeship Training Foundation, Arkadelphia, AR
> Dianna Keller, Office of College and Career Readiness, Louisiana Department of Education, Baton Rouge, LA
> Moderator: Renee Dycus, Executive Director, Southwest Arkansas PDD, Magnolia, AR

EDA Grants Online and EDA 101
Governor Room
The session will start with EDA Austin staff providing an overview of current programs, noting any particular items that grantees (and potential grantees) should be aware of as they manage their grants. At the halfway point, EDA staff will switch gears and provide key bits of information about Grants Online. Come prepared with questions!

> Jessica Falk, Area Director, U.S. Economic Development Administration, Austin, TX
> Matthew Giannini, Area Director, U.S. Economic Development Administration, Austin, TX
> Sally Waley, Senior Economic Development Specialist, U.S. Economic Development Administration, Austin, TX
12:00 - 1:30 p.m.

Luncheon Plenary with EDA Leadership
Over lunch, EDA leadership will share their thoughts on the current state of the region, as well as provide an update on EDA programs.

> Dennis Alvord, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Regional Affairs, U.S. Economic Development Administration, Washington, DC

> Jorge Ayala, Regional Director, U.S. Economic Development Administration, Austin Regional Office, Austin, TX

1:45 – 3:00 p.m.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS

Helping Local Businesses Compete Globally
Freight mobility is emerging as a critical component of a region’s economic development strategy, especially as it relates to moving goods and commodities from producers to buyers, both domestically and internationally. Less than four years ago, nearly 54 million tons of freight moved across the U.S. every day…at a value of nearly $48 million. This session will look at the important roles that freight (trucks, trains, ships, planes) has on regional economic stability and vitality.

> Larry Kelly, Deputy Port Director, Port of Port Arthur, Port Arthur, TX

> Paul Aucoin, Executive Director, Port of South Louisiana, LaPlace, LA

> Tim Trevino, Senior Director of Operations & Strategic Partnerships, Alamo Area Council of Governments, San Antonio, TX

> Moderator: Rich Brierre, Executive Director, INCOG, Tulsa, OK

Managing Information in the Digital World
Businesses are increasingly looking to the cloud to manage data and information, store records and files, and conduct business transactions. But businesses are not the only ones benefitting from the cloud - EDDs and local governments are increasingly looking to the cloud for their uses, too. This session will address the benefits of cloud solutions and aggregation, as well as offer information on ways to avoid (or recover from) cyberattacks.

> Dale Graver, Vice President of Business Development, VC3, Raleigh, NC

> Moderator: Dwayne Pratt, Executive Director, West Central Arkansas PDD, Hot Springs, AR

3:00 – 3:15 p.m.

Networking Break

3:15 – 4:30 p.m.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS

Strengthening Regional Resilience
Resilience is the ability of a region or community to anticipate, withstand, and bounce back from any shock or disruption it faces. This session will provide a framework for supporting resilience at the regional level and will share best practices and lessons learned from the Baton Rouge region following last year’s flooding. Learn from regional planning commission staff and state and federal partners about how recovering from this event has strengthened local resilience planning and improved coordination and collaboration at the regional, state, and federal levels.

> Kim Marousek, Director of Planning, Capital Region Planning Commission, Baton Rouge, LA

> Sandra Bowling, FEMA, Community Planning Capacity Building Recovery Support Function, Baton Rouge, LA

> Moderator: Brett Schwartz, Program Manager, NADO Research Foundation, Washington, DC

Keeping It Local: Food Systems as Economy Stabilizers
Food clusters, food hubs, farm-to-fork, farm-to-table, food security and food insecurity, food deserts, food systems. The link between food and economic development is real, and EDDs are looking at ways to assure there is a strong and healthy food system in their region as part of their... economic strategies. This session will look at the various ways that restaurants can partner with workforce development to create job and career opportunities, while also looking at ways local food systems fit into other parts of the overall economy. And, a session on food systems as economic stabilizers would not be on target if it did not also address the various new craft beverage industries and their impacts on the economy.

> Ann Simon, Economic Development Program Manager, Middle Rio COG, Albuquerque, NM
> Chris Schreck, Planning and Economic Development Director, Capital Area COG/EDD, Austin, TX

2017 Star of the Southwest Awards

The U.S. Economic Development Administration Austin Regional Office recognizes these projects for making a significant and important impact on the regions they serve. All of these projects received EDA investments between 2005 and 2010.

ARKANSAS

Dassault Falcon Jet, City of Little Rock, and Central Arkansas Planning and Development District: EDA’s investment of $1.9 million, part of the total project investment of $3.5 million, helped fund the expansion of this jet facility and other new industries locating near the Little Rock airport. The project created 300 jobs and retained another 350, and resulted in $40 million of private investment.

FutureFuel Chemical Company, Independence County, and White River Planning and Development District: An EDA investment of $3.4 million (total project investment of $5.525 million) helped fund a rail switching station and rail car storage to accommodate the company's expansion resulting in 95 new jobs and a total private investment of $75 million.

LOUISIANA

Lions Water Plant, St. John the Baptist Parish, and South Central Planning and Development Commission: With an EDA investment of $1 million and a total investment of $2.87 million, this project supported a rebound from losses, and new business expansion, in the wake of Hurricane Katrina. A new sugar refinery located in the parish as a result of this project, bringing with it $140 million private investment and 120 new jobs.

City of Pineville Sewer Expansion, City of Pineville, and Kisatchie-Delta Regional Planning & Development District: EDAs investment of $1.25 million (total investment of $5 million) helped save the area’s largest manufacturer and support manufacturing cluster development, resulting in $301 million total private investment. The project created and saved 1,017 and 330 jobs, respectively.

NEW MEXICO

WESST Enterprise Center and Middle Rio Grande Council of Governments: EDA’s investment of $1.25 million, part of a total project investment of $2,952,860, was used to construct a business incubator in Albuquerque’s downtown that served mostly women, ethnic minorities, and low income residents. Completed in 2009, the center has helped create 337 new jobs, generate $76.8 million in revenues, leverage $12 million of equity investments, and accounts for $36 million in payroll.

San Juan College Enterprise Center, Farmington, and Northwest New Mexico Council of Governments: An EDA investment of $175,000 helped expand and upgrade a 1999 investment of $1 million that built a mixed-use incubator on the San Juan College campus, resulting in 250 jobs and annual revenues from private investment exceeding $5 million.

OKLAHOMA

City of Elk City and South Western Oklahoma Development Authority: EDA’s investment of $2.25 million, part of a $3 million effort, helped the 160 acre Elk City Industrial Park make structural improvements that resulted in 200 jobs retained 150 jobs created. Internal paving of streets with curb and gutter provided improved access. Other improvements included paving, grading, and adding drainage and intersection lighting to existing streets. Private investment into the Park’s original businesses totaled $7,750,000. The project was made possible through the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act.

City of Miami and Grand Gateway Economic Development Association EDA’s investment of $500,000 accounted for half of a total project investment of $1 million to restore the historic Coleman Theater which provided the downtown district with a conference complex center. The construction project also included restoration of the intersection of 1st and North Main Streets on Historic Route 66. Twenty-five jobs were retained as a result of the project investment.

TEXAS

Texas State Technical College, Waco, and Heart of Texas Council of Governments An EDA investment of $1.5 million, combined with a $9.6 million match from TxDOT, enabled construction of an Aerospace Technology Center to support workforce training. The Center has trained 3,500 students who typically follow this training with further training at the FAA Academy. Currently, 325 students are in this training which covers pilot training, air traffic control, aircraft dispatch, and avionics.

City of Levelland and South Plains Association of Government A $3.3 million EDA investment (total investment of $8.6 million) helped construct the first phase of the Levelland Industrial Rail Park that focuses on rail-based businesses as part of diversifying the region’s economy. Five companies have located in the park and generated $25 million in private investment, and created 63 jobs and retained 73 jobs.
